

Money Matters

Bringing financial freedom to your health practice...

1 day intensive and implementation programme

Facilitator:
Rebecca Levy

Small business is in my blood! I'm fourth generation small business owner; grew up watching my dad grow his three small businesses and my mum working in marketing.

Over the last 19 years I've worked in and on small businesses in roles including coach, business manager, sales and account management and training roles.

My experiences have given me a clear insight into what makes a business successful whilst supporting business owners to remain true to their values.

My passion is to educate and empower health and wellness business owners with grounded tools to grow their business and achieve their personal and professional goals.

I look forward to sharing with you soon.

Rebecca

"Rebecca's wealth of knowledge in the 'small business arena' was invaluable and her style of both explaining problems and strategies to overcome them were shared with a real passion and richness of wisdom for her field."

♥ Want to know how many clients you really need each week to make money?

♥ Worried about managing the financial side of your practice?

This seminar will teach you simple techniques to manage the financial side of your practice, bringing clarity and direction to your money matters. It has been designed to demystify the finances within your business and empower you with tools to confidently grow your profits.

The workshop will cover:

- 1 Understand your break-even – the cost of running your business, why it's important and how to work it out.
- 2 Setting your fees – set your fees whilst valuing your service.
- 3 Record keeping – setting up straightforward financial records.
- 4 Managing your taxes – simple strategies to organize your taxes.

You will leave with practical tools to run and grow your practice with ease.
